

Venezuela: Barí

Barí is spoken natively by approximately 5,000 people in Venezuela and Columbia. It is a member of the Chibcha language family. The Barí people are one of the firve tribes that live in the Sierra de Perija in the Zulia state northwestern South America. Barí people also live across the Colombian border.

Ami'bakyii is used to say hi in Barí

Bariri is used say goodbye.

Hello in Barí

Goodbye in Barí

All Around this World thanks Tairi Oto'oko, speaker of Barí, for recording this lesson's hello and goodbye.

Hello in Bari

Ami'bakyii

Goodbye in Bari

Bariri